

CATHOLIC CHARITIES CAMPAIGN IS PLANNED

Third Annual Drive Begins Sunday, April 30, and Lasts One Week—Work Accomplished in The Past—No Appeal Made to Those Outside The Church.

The third annual drive for charities in the archdiocese of New York is set for the week commencing April 30. An elaborate program of systematic action has been planned to include in the list of supporters every member of the church. The list of contributors now numbers 219,569 Catholics in the New York archdiocese, and an effort is being made to reach the million mark.

Sixteen thousand men and women are enlisted in the work of gathering in a million dollars which sum is necessary to inaugurate new agencies for relief and to strengthen existing agencies and institutions in their effort to extend the scope and zone of their beneficence.

Archbishop Hayes inaugurated the work of coordinating the charity organizations of the archdiocese two years ago, and his plan has met with a whole-hearted response from the laity who are banded in what is termed the archbishop's committee of the laity. They have contributed to all kinds of charitable work in the past two years the sum of $1,794,257.41. This sum of money does not include the vast sums that are contributed by private individuals for the maintenance of charitable work nor the amounts that are expended by the four hundred and two parishes in the archdiocese for the relief of the poor and for the development of beneficent and social works that are being conducted.

The Catholic Charities survey indicates the expense of seven million dollars annually for the support of its charitable works.

A very satisfying result of the organized Catholic Charities has been the enlistment of a large number of people in the various philanthropies who find an opportunity for doing works of charity along co-ordinate and systematic lines that produce incalculable results.

The Catholic Charities have organized a County Committee in Ulster county that is made up of laymen and laywomen from each village in the county and who are subdivided in their work into committees on health, social welfare, relief, education, institutional interest and care of children. This committee has done prodigious work along all these lines in the short period of its existence.

The Charities have given more to Ulster county than they have received from it, to sustain the weaker parts of the diocese in its effort to relieve. The Benedictine Sanitarium has received $15,000 to amplify its work, and is promised a substantial contribution for its addition that is soon to be erected.

Three thousand four hundred dollars has been spent through the county agent, Miss Molly Finerty, in all kinds of relief work throughout the county.

The Knights of Columbus share very generously in the dispensation of this beneficence, by placing one of its rooms at the disposal of the Catholic Charities, which is used as an office.

On Sunday, April 23rd, a special sermon on charity will be delivered by a priest in the archdiocese to awaken a general interest in the charity movement, and to incite the Catholic people to give most generously.

No quotas are established this year, and no set amount is levied on the individual, but the most generous response to the archbishop's appeal is most earnestly invoked.

A bulletin that will unfold the full report of the distributions to the Charities will be distributed on Sunday next.

The following preliminary report of charitable achievement will prove both mystifying and stimulating and is purposed to rally to the movement every member of the Catholic Church.

The charities do not look for aid from their friends without the fold, as their sincere purpose is to strive through their own giving, to aid all conditions of need in their own communion, their single exception being that where the state provides resources for relief, they, as others may share in its bestowal, when due qualifications justify the dependency.

What Catholic Charities has done to organize, assist, and extend relief in the division of families:

1. Appropriated $236,401.22 for relief work among families of the poor.

2. Aided in establishing 25 new St. Vincent de Paul Conferences; Aims to establish conferences of this society in every parish of the diocese.

3. Donated $20,000.00 to the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

4. Assisted in organizing 38 branches of the Ladies of Charity who aid and assist the St. Vincent de Paul Society in the relief of destitute women and children. Aims to establish branches of the Ladies of Charity in every parish.

5. Assisted in procuring trained social workers as parish visitors; assisted through their thousands of family and religious difficulties; co-operating with Fordham University in the training of these parish visitors in the best methods of doing this work.

6. Provided proper forms and outlines of organization for thorough going census and study, suited to

45,000 HOMELESS IN MONASTIR

Details of Casualties in Great Montenegrin Explosion Unobtainable But City's Buildings Were Wiped Out.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Athens, Greece, April 21.—Practically the whole town of Monastir, in Southern Serbia, is in ruins today as a result of the explosion there on Tuesday, of an ammunition dump in which was stored all the residue of war materials of former armies in the Near East.

Inhabitants of the town, a medley of all nationalities, numbering about 45,000, are homeless. Many are seeking refuge in the surrounding mountains.

No details of the number of dead are yet available, due to the paucity of communication so far established with the ruined town.

All reports say conditions are pitiful and great excitement still prevails among those who were fortunate enough to escape death or injury. There are no reports of attempts to start rescue work. Aid is being rushed to the stricken area from all parts of the Balkan peninsula.

No further reports have been received of conditions in Salonika where a like disaster was reported yesterday to have taken place. It is now believed that the report from Salonika should have read Monastir, but that in telegraphic transmission, the name of the Serbian city was dropped, giving rise to the widespread belief that the explosion occurred in Salonika.

U. S. SOON TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—Recognition of the Soviet government of Russia by the United States, in one form or another, is nearer today than it has ever been.

This statement reflects the views not only of those who have consistently advocated such an American policy, but also of those who have been most pronounced in their opposition to the Moscow Soviet and all its works.

While no responsible administration official would hazard publicly a prediction today of how soon such an event will take place it was nevertheless admitted privately that the United States has been brought to the verge of recognition by the swift-moving chain of events in the past few weeks.

TERRIFIC FIRING IN IRISH CITIES

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Belfast, April 21.—Snipers perched on roof tops, early today attacked detachments of police in the streets of East Belfast. There was lively firing until an armored car appeared, attacked the houses and dislodged the snipers.

One of the snipers was wounded. Dublin, April 21.—With the dawn of another day, the city of Dublin had passed through another night of terrific fighting between loyal and riotous factions of the Irish Republican Army.

In addition to sporadic street fighting, the mutineers again attacked Wellington Barracks, headquarters of the loyal troops. They were repulsed by the Free Staters after several hours of fighting.

Two Republicans and three Free Staters were wounded in the night's disturbances. In attacks on Wellington Barracks, the Republicans used nearby houses as fortresses. In order to dislodge them, the Free Staters used hand grenades freely.

WIND AND SNOW IN THE CATSKILLS

Ice formed this morning to the thickness of about an eighth of an inch in this city. People who came to town from Pine Hill reported that three inches of snow fell in that place Thursday, and that there was considerable snow accompanied by a high wind in the Catskill mountains. An inch or so fell in the town of Olive, and there were snow squalls in Kerhonkson.

In a memorandum in Boyd's Kingston and Rondout directory, 1857-58, owned by a Freeman reporter, under the date of April 20-21, 1857, is written:

"Snowed all day with a stiff north wind and part of the next day; fell enough to have made a foot in depth had the ground and weather been in condition to prevent melting." A Kingston man states that when he was a boy he shoveled snow on April 25, 1873, that was one foot deep on the roof of the Kingston Journal building. Wall street, and remembers the incident well as he measured it by request of the late H. D. Baldwin, in several places, and wrote the happening and date down on the wall of the Journal printing office at the time.

Preaching at Ashokan.

The Rev. G. W. Grinton, district superintendent, will preach on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Ashokan Church and conduct the first quarterly conference. West Hurley and Glenford churches will be represented at this meeting.

Ball Team Wants Games.

The Brown Station Baseball Club has organized for the season and wishes to hook some games with teams of Ulster county. Lester Lawrence, Brown Station, N. Y., is its manager.

Germans Accept In Part Allied Restrictions

Believe They are Entitled to Discuss Points Not Covered by Treaty of Rapallo, Says

Reply to Lloyd-George's Note Demanding They Quit All Discussions on Russia.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Genoa, April 21.—Germany, in her reply today to the Allied note censuring her for making a pact with the Russians, accepted expulsion from future Russian discussions only on those points already settled in the treaty of Rapallo.

Premier Lloyd-George had declared that the Germans must either abrogate the treaty or accept complete expulsion from all discussions pertaining to an agreement with the Russians.

"The German delegation thinks that it is right that they should take part in the deliberations of the first commission on questions corresponding to those already settled between Germany and Russia only in case their collaboration should be especially asked," Walter Rathenau declared to the International News Service in explaining the German answer.

"On the other hand," he continued, "the German delegation remains interested in all these questions referred to the first commission which do not relate to points settled in the treaty."

"The answer is a direct result of Premier Lloyd-George's statement yesterday, that the incident is closed," Rathenau said. "The answer was also inspired by a desire to further peace conciliation. It was realized that a broad gesture was necessary."

Rathenau paid tribute to the Italian delegation for its efforts to mediate between the Germans and the French and British. He also took occasion again to deny that there had been any split in the German delegation. He said that the answer was unanimous.

SCHERMERHORN'S CASE BEING HEARD

Sheldon Testifies That Defendant and Another Asked His Aid to Get Stolen Herbert Sedan Out of Field—Car Worth About $400, Say Witnesses.

The case of The People of the State of New York against Frank Schermerhorn, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, being indicted for taking the Overland sedan of John F. Herbert, Jr., from Thomas street on the evening of November 24, 1921, was continued Thursday afternoon in county court. An early adjournment was taken at the close of plaintiff's case when District Attorney Traver was called away on important business in connection with the office of the district attorney.

John Cushman, who appears for Schermerhorn, asked that he be allowed to postpone the opening of his case until this morning.

Several witnesses were sworn on behalf of The People at Thursday's session of court, among them being several witnesses who testified to the value of the Herbert car. The value placed by the majority of the witnesses was about $400. John F. Gallagher, whose automobile was standing on Thomas street near the Herbert factory on the afternoon of November 24, testified that he had gone out to get into his car when he noticed the Herbert car standing a short distance in front of his machine and just as he went out he saw two people in the Herbert car. They drove away and he did not know who it was. Later he met Mr. Herbert, who informed him that Gallagher told him of the incident which he had noticed earlier in the day. Mr. Gallagher said he thought it was Mr. Herbert, and some companion who took the car. The police were notified of the affair and later found the car fast in a field just beyond Marz's Hotel on the Saugerties road.

George Sheldon, who resides on the left hand side of the Saugerties road just beyond the Marz Hotel, testified that about 9 o'clock Schermerhorn and another young man had come to his house and asked assistance in getting the car out of the field. Sheldon had heard a noise of an automobile for a few minutes just before the young men came to his house. He thought it was a machine stuck. Schermerhorn asked Sheldon, whom he knew, to get a couple of planks and help them get the machine out. The companion of Schermerhorn said there was a jack in the car as he had put one in just before they took the car out. However, they were not able to get the car out and later it was pulled out by the wrecking car from the Eagle Garage and brought to Kingston where it was placed in the Eagle Garage and remained there until a short time ago.

OLD MAN WINTER SENDS HIS CARD

With cold, raw winds blowing the temperature dropped steadily Thursday evening and Kingston residents when they awoke this morning found that ice had formed during the night.

This morning at 7 o'clock thermometers along the Strand registered 32 degrees above zero, and a sharp wind reminded early risers that Old Man Winter must have decided to present his visiting card to remind folks that he was not very far away.

The warm weather of several days ago caused many householders to allow the furnaces and heaters to go out, but the past day or so has caused them to get busy and start fires again.

Uster County Farm Sold.

The large farm owned by John Saxon, formerly known as the Birch Farm, located south of New Paltz on the Savillon road, together with a large dairy and farm implements, was sold to New York parties on Wednesday, who will take immediate possession. The Saxon farm is known as one of the best dairy farms in the county; there is also a large apple orchard on the property. Mr. Saxon is forced to give up farming on account of his health. He will move to the city with his family. This sale was made by the Strout Farm Agency.

Catskill Lines Merged.

The New York Steamboat Company of Catskill and the Catskill Evening Line have been merged, a certificate to that effect having been filed with the secretary of state.

CITY'S PUBLIC MARKET WILL OPEN ON MAY 2

William Moyle, City Sealer of Weights and Measures, Will Again be in Charge of Field Court Market—Tuesdays Thursdays and Saturdays To Be Market Days.

Kingston will again have a public market, and at a recent meeting it was decided to hold the market as usual on Field Court, where it proved such a success last season.

William Moyle, city sealer of weights and measures, will again have charge of the market.

The question of whether the public market was to continue was left by the city authorities to the decision of the producers who used the market last summer, and at a recent meeting they were unanimously in favor of continuing the plan again this season.

The city is having a large canvas sign made by W. G. Johnston, the

CARNIVAL STOPPED AT ELLENVILLE

District Attorney Frederick G. Traver, Sheriff William Kolts, Under Sheriff Tullis Haulenbeck and Deputy Sheriff Harry Kolts motored to Ellenville Thursday afternoon and closed the American Exposition Shows which is a carnival company giving exhibitions on the race track in that village. Complaint had been made that poodle wheels and other gambling devices were used. Owing to the bad weather the shows had been doing a losing business all week.

FORD DISAVOWS CLAIMS OF BOOK

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—Henry Ford has disavowed some of the claims made on his behalf by his friends.

The Detroit manufacturer, it was learned today, has sent a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon in which he stated that the authors of "The Truth About Henry Ford," did not consult him as to all the details.

The correspondence with Mellon arose out of the assertion made in the book that Ford returned to the government $23,000,000 in war profits. Mellon began it by writing Ford about it.

Ford's reply is understood to be to the effect that he didn't write the book and is in no way responsible for some of its statements. The Ford letter will not be made public, it was stated.

BAPTISTS HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual roll call, supper and corporate meeting of the Wurts Street Baptist Church was held Thursday evening. The members of the church and congregation gathered in the main auditorium and promptly at 7 o'clock marched into the Sunday school hall and were served with a most excellent supper by the ladies of the church. 225 were seated at the tables with their pretty decorations of flowers and smilax. After the supper the corporate meeting was called to order and Charles W. Deyo and W. A. Van Valkenburgh were re-elected to the board of trustees. Letters were read from out of town members unable to be present, one from the former pastor, the Rev. A. K. Fuller, expressing his greeting and best wishes to the church of which he was pastor for many years. Mrs. Morris and Mr. Brigham rendered solos during the evening that were enjoyed by all. Short speeches were made by Harry A. Tremper, representing the board of trustees, N. S. Eldridge, representing the board of deacons, Harold Freidell, representing the Sunday school and F. S. Tongue, representing the Church Council. Each gave an interesting account of the church work in these different departments.

The Rev. Clarence Hill Franks, pastor of The First Baptist Church of Poughkeepsie, was the main speaker of the evening and brought a most interesting and instructive message on church life.

The Rev. R. P. Ingersoll, pastor of the church acted as toastmaster.

Attorney Floyd W. Powell was called on and responded in his usual interesting and humorous manner, bringing to a close an evening of pleasure and profit to all who attended.

Over Fifty Years in Business.

The New Paltz Independent says: It is just 53 years ago this month since we assumed editorial control of the Independent and we have been in charge ever since.

The only persons in the village who have been nearly as long in business are John N. Vanderlyn and Oscar Zimmerman. Mr. Vanderlyn has been carrying on his business as attorney and Mr. Zimmerman has had a meat market for a period of about fifty years each.

Zion Church Fair.

The annual fair of the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church will be opened on Tuesday evening with a program and continue until April 28. The committee is now putting forth every effort to make the fair a success. Annually the church looks forward to this grand occasion when there is happy meetings with all its members and friends, a nightly program is arranged which will begin at 8 o'clock. The fair committee will hold a social this evening.

HOSPITALIZATION BILL SIGNED

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—President Harding today signed the Langley bill, appropriating $17,000,000 to provide additional hospital facilities for disabled veterans of the World War. The money is to be expended under the direction of the Veterans' Bureau.

The champion Kingston Colonials, under the leadership of Captain Harry E. Schrick, will open the baseball season Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the Athletic Field when they clash with the fast Westchester Blue Sox.

The Sunday game scheduled with the Olympics of Troy has been cancelled, and the Troy team has been booked to play here on May 7. Kingston's lineup will be as follows for the opening game:

First base—Coyle.
Second base—Rice.
Third base—Glaser.
Shortstop—Duggan.
Center field—Pittsford.
Right field—Moore.
Catcher—Robins.
Pitcher—McAuliffe.

Judge Schrick stated this morning that McAuliffe, who is in good condition, will undoubtedly open on the firing line. Williams will be kept in reserve.

ARMY RECOGNIZES MOTHERS' DAY

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, April 21.—"Mothers' Day—May 14," has been officially recognized by the United States army.

Secretary of War Weeks today directed all army commanders to bring to the attention of every officer and enlisted man his desire that all members of the military establishment write a letter home on Mothers' Day.

The order was issued, Weeks said, as an expression of the "love and reverence we owe to the mothers of our country."

MISS FROOKS OF HIGH COURT BAR

Miss Dorothy Frooks, formerly of the town of Saugerties, who was a candidate for the Republican nomination for representative in Congress two years ago and later ran for that office independently, on Thursday was admitted to the bar of the United States Supreme Court at Washington.

Miss Frooks is twenty-four years old and has been practicing law since she became twenty-one. She is one of the youngest members of the Supreme Court bar. At present she is attorney for the Salvation Army.

During the World War, when she was in the naval service, she published "The American Heart," and she expects soon to publish "Love's Law," a novel which deals with legal matters and advocates the appointment of a "Public Defender."

Since leaving Ulster county, Miss Frooks has taken up her residence in New York city, where she lives at the Hotel St. Andrew. Broadway and Seventy-second street.

Pauline M. Floyd, also 24 years old, of Chicago, was another woman admitted Thursday to the bar of the U. S. Supreme Court.

NOW I AM WELL AND STRONG

If You Cannot Truthfully Say This
of Yourself, Take Gude's
Pepto-Mangan

If you are not as strong and healthy as you used to be what are you doing about it? PODGE PRESENTS ARTIST-PUPIL

Piano Recital by Miss Ethel Schwab Assisted by Mrs. Overbaugh Given to Highly Approving Audience.

On Thursday evening, at his studio, Harry P. Dodge presented his artist-pupil, Miss Ethel Schwab of Saugerties, who gave a piano recital, assisted by Mrs. J. C. Overbaugh, also of Saugerties. In passing it should be said that there was all of the "Artist" and none of the "Pupil" in Miss Schwab's playing. Mr. Dodge has brought to public recognition many musically talented young people, of whose number, Miss Schwab stands out as being pre-eminently a finished musician, and that statement is no fulsome praise at all.

There is music in every note Miss Schwab plays; a round, full, satisfying tone, and that she is a student rather than a pupil is plain from her technique, so well established by hard and indefatigable work, as to seem quite without effort in the most difficult passages that she played. Yet these things may be acquired while this young lady's interpretation of the music performed amounts to positive genius, coupled as it is with the power of expression of the inner thought.

It was a thoroughly delightful program to listen to, but an especially difficult one to render. The opening number was the lovely Mozart Sonata in F Major, and Miss Schwab has a remarkable insight into Mozart's music. After the opening passage of the Allegro movement, one sat back and thoroughly enjoyed Mozart's music, crisp but not sharp; brilliant but not showy; song-like but not sentimental; fresh, wholesome and full of light, and awoke at the last chord to a realization of the fact that a student, but indeed also an artist, had been playing.

But the group of Schumann numbers, "Aufschwung" (soaring), "Des Abends" (Evening) and "Grillen" (Humor) was almost beyond belief, especially Aufschwung! Schumann was poet, but in the expression of his poetry of music there seems always an opalescent light that is most elusive, especially so to any but an artist. To say that the memory of Miss Schwab's playing of this group will linger long, and exultantly in the minds of those who heard her last evening, is indeed a deserved compliment, the more so in that Schumann's music does not flow along in the easy sequence of, say, Mozart.

Absolutely different was the "Polonaise Americaine" by Carpentier, a clever, vivacious, American-spirited composition to which Miss Schwab did full justice.

After her finesse in playing Mozart and Schumann, the music lovers in the audience wondered what the charming young artist would do with the Chopin Nocturne, Op. 47, No. 1 and the Chopin Waltz, Op. 44, No. 2. That Nocturne is full of deep violet tints, of luminosity and unfathomable depth like the sky and the water about the Island of Majorca, and this young girl caught its spirit and had at her command—and throughout the entire evening her remarkable poise was commented upon—the means of passing it on to her hearers to such an extent that there was a breathless stillness in the studio, as though all feared to miss a tone, a chord, and with the last lovely harmony came a sign and a burst of applause.

Grace, rhythm, a tone of pearl which alone expressed much of Chopin's music, marked the playing of the waltz.

The last number played by Miss Schwab is thrilling and blood-stirring, the March from "Ruins of Athens" (Beethoven-Rubinstein) and though it made amazing demands upon the performer, it was so triumphantly, so triumphantly played that the audience simply kept on applauding until Miss Schwab returned and graciously repeated the number, quite as though she were just beginning the program.

Withal, the young lady has the humility of real genius plus hard work, else there might be danger in this frank expression of admiration and appreciation which, after all, demands more and more of her.

Miss Schwab was assisted in the program by Mrs. J. C. Overbaugh, soprano, who sang to the enjoyment of her appreciative hearers, first "Vissi D'arte," from Tosca by Puccini, and then a group of two songs, "If Thou Wert Blind," by Johnson, and "Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal," by Quilter. Mr. Dodge accompanying her. In response to the repeated applause, Mrs. Overbaugh who possesses a high soprano voice and considerable dramatic ability, sang an encore. Both young ladies were presented with literally arms full of beautiful carnations.

All who heard Miss Schwab last evening will watch her future musical career with profound interest, being assured that it will be that of the recognized artist, and one more gifted student will be credited to Mr. Dodge's musical discernment as well as instruction.

AN IMPROVEMENT AT UPTOWN POST OFFICE

In order to make room for an up-to-date automatic computing and weighing scale of large size for the parcel post department in the Uptown Station of the post office, Fair street, the panel at the end of lock box section has been taken out, and the lockboxes pushed back, thus making a space for the placing of the new scales near the delivery and receiving windows at the front, thus making it more handy for the clerks on duty.

CLUBWOMEN'S EXECUTIVES MET

Move To Secure More Information
Before Starting Girls' Clubhouse
Project—Ask More Light On Tupper Lake Camp.

Much of interest transpired at the meeting of the Executive Committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs held at the Kingston City Library on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Rice, the president, presiding. Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. Walker, and the report of the treasurer, Mrs. Van Wagenen, it was announced that the net proceeds from the concert given by the Federation recently, for the purpose of raising funds for civic work of a particular character, were $179.60.

Following action by the state federation and the district organizations, the local federation was asked to interest itself in the matter of finding any blind children in the city or county, needing relief or special care, as a department of the state federation under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alden is cooperating with the state in this splendid work. For our own locality, Miss Bessie Brewster, 5 St. James Court, is the proper person to communicate with to get assistance for any local cases.

The matter of the Roosevelt Memorial was again mentioned, and it was reiterated that the payment of $1 makes one a life member in this memorial without further payments. Any one wishing to join in this memorial should communicate with Mrs. G. F. Rice, president of the Federation or Mrs. Harry Walker, secretary.

As the women of the executive committee felt that they were not quite clear as to what had been, was being and was to be done at the Tupper Lake Camp for tuberculous ex-service men, it was voted to ask Father Mabry to be present at the May open meeting and briefly tell what there is to be known of the work.

Then considerable time was devoted to the discussion of the project of establishing either a girls' club house or Y. W. C. A. in the city, the special work in which the Federation has interested itself. It came to light that there is now much general interest in the community regarding this matter, and also considerable specific interest. It was finally decided that before undertaking any money-raising scheme for the furtherance of the idea, it would be necessary to learn definitely what, how, and with what success both projects have been put over in different places, comparing nearly to Kingston's size and needs. It was therefore voted to spend what might be necessary of the fund of $179 to bring to Kingston, some person who can tell in detail of the institution and operation of the Community House at Elmira, and some nearby successful Y. W. C. A., probably the one in Poughkeepsie. A committee was named to act. There was also much interest shown in the suggestion of later securing Miss Lila Stewart to put on a Kermis for this undertaking.

The next open meeting of the federation which occurs in May will be the annual meeting and all club presidents and chairmen of standing committees are reminded that they will be expected to give very brief reports of their year's work at that meeting.

Japanese Form of Greeting.

If a man in an American city met an old friend from the country and proceeded to double himself up into the form of a jackknife and then sit down on the pavement, he would probably be removed without delay to the nearest asylum. But if a man in Japan failed to observe this ceremonial in greeting a friend he would be regarded not only as unfriendly but positively lacking in courtesy. This form of greeting is one of the oldest customs of Japan. In this respect Japanese politeness exceeds even that of the French, and the "bowing and scraping" habit is not confined to any particular class.

The Carat.

This tiny standard of weight, although not one person in a million ever makes practical use of it, possesses great prestige because of its connection with diamonds and other precious stones. But how many of us have any clear idea of the weight represented by a carat? In England it is customary to reckon 151 1/4 carats to the ounce, troy. This makes the carat equivalent to 206.3 milligrams, or 3.1683 grains. Attempts have been made to secure general recognition in all countries of a metric standard carat of 200 milligrams.

Cocoon Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your drugist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

Problems of bringing world trade and money exchange back to normalcy are being considered by powerful world leaders at the Genoa Economic Conference. Here is the first photograph of the notables in attendance to reach this country. Lloyd George, in a characteristic pose, dominates the group. At his left is Premier Facta of Italy. Just behind him is Sir Laming Worthington-Evans, tallest in group. At the British Premier's right is Sir Robert Stevens on Horse, with Signor Schauer, Italian Foreign Minister, beside him.

RUBY.

Ruby, April 20.—Edward Benson and family and Mrs. Clyde Gaddis motored to Rensselaer Saturday afternoon and spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hardt.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitaker of Mt. Marion called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaler Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shank of Kingston spent Sunday afternoon with his mother, Mrs. Eva Shank. Mrs. A. Burkans and daughter, Dorothy, of Glasco, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaler. Mrs. E. D. Dodge and daughter Beatrice, who have spent the winter months in Kingston, have returned to their home in this place.

Mrs. Kate Staerker and grandson Howard, of Kingston, are visiting her sister, Miss Rose Stice.

Miss Helen Titus is visiting friends in Kingston.

An enjoyable evening was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Horton Tuesday evening. Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs.

KERNEL IN EAR CAUSES DEATH

Telegraph to The Freeman.
New Haven, Conn., April 21.—
A child from meningitis, caused by an kernel sprouting in his ear, ended
the sufferings of Peter Eversen, at the Hospital last night. Physicians were today greatly interested in the case, said to be the only one of its kind on record so far as known.
The child was troubled about a week with earache. It is said, and subsequently removed a sprouted oat
from the member. Later the ear was discharging and he consulted a physician, but continued to grow worse. How the kernel lodged in the ear is not known.

ELLENVILLE

Ellenville, April 21.—Mrs. J. R.
Kessel who spent the winter in Binghamton, has returned to her home here.

Mrs. William Decker of New Haven is spending the week with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur V. Hoar-land.

William Brown, the carpenter, is adding to the lunch
wagon on Canal street.

Miss Gladys Tomer of Brooklyn visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Newman, over Easter.

The public service commission has granted M. S. Vandewyke & Son a certificate for the operation of a bus line between Ellenville and Napanoch.

Mrs. Walter Pecker and daughter, Mrs. Florence Kirby, spent Wednesday in Kingston.

Mrs. Santer was an Easter visitor
at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
Allen D. Potter.

Fred S. Benedict of Providence,
R. I., was in our village Friday evening calling on relatives and friends.

He spent the night at Napanoch with his father, Thomas E. Benedict, who has had a mild attack of influenza.

Charles P. Cleveland was down
from Fort Jervis over Sunday.

Misses Carolyn Andre and Katherine Kirkland are spending the week in Greater New York.

Messrs. Chail and Berman who purchased the DeWitt farm at the Hartnesskill, are having constructed a two-story frame house directly in the rear of the present house.

Messrs. Chris and George Sherry, with their wives, spent Easter at the Sherry home on Upper Centre
street.

Little Helen Van Gorder very pleasantly entertained a company of friends at her home on upper Canal street Wednesday afternoon, in celebration of her birthday.

Mrs. Raymond Nash of Newark spent Easter with her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Kramel on Upper Centre
street.

Mrs. Charles Ransome, who is suffering severely with eye trouble,
came down from Sidney last week
Wednesday and has been visiting at the home of Mrs. Emma Ransome.

The Musical Club will meet at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, April 27, in the Hunt Memorial. The subject will be "Gypsy Music," and every member is urged to be present.

With Sunday, April 30, the Rev.
Hugh P. Hobson completes sixteen years as rector of St. John's Memorial Church.

Mrs. John Couch has returned home after spending a very pleasant week in Newark visiting her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Beyer.

Irring McNally brought his family
up from Flemington, N. J., Sunday for a few days stay with Mrs. Mc-Nally's father, Eugene Burkham.

A. V. Porter of Passaic Park, is stopping at the home of E. S. Ter-williger, en route to Red Hill for a visit with Carrs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulster Palmer are on an auto trip up-state visiting friends at Schenectady and Little Falls. They expect to be at Utica Saturday for the dedication of the National Soldiers and Sailors Memorial Hospital.

Miss Edna Meier went first of the week to spend some time at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Frank Gefeller, in Syracuse.

Mrs. Floyd Smith of Deposit has been spending the week with her brother, H. W. Coons and family.

Miss Margaret Backman substituted on Easter Day in place of Miss Anna T. Henninger, organist
at St. Andrew's Church.

WHITEPORT.

Whiteport, April 20.—Mrs. Ransom Krom was visiting her mother, Mrs. E. Fagher of Kingston a few days of the past week.

Miss Elizabeth Oliver is slowly improving under the care of Dr. L.
G. Rymph.

Miss Elsie Rowe was a week-end visitor at the home of her parents,
Mr. and Mrs. William Rowe.

Michael Beyersdorfer is making quite a few improvements on his place.

Miss Florence Wadge is visiting Clara May Fagher during her Easter vacation.

Joseph Yonkers is improving his farm by building a new chicken coop.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bonesteel and two children are spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Leo Volk.

The children were all very glad to see their former teacher, Miss Callit, who visited the school one day of the past week.

Sunday in Bloomingdale a very exciting game of baseball was played between Maple Hill and Hemlockdale with the score of 10 to 11 in favor of Rosendale.

Misses Jennie, DeWitt and Katherine Rowe and friends were invited to Kingston one night of the past week.

Everybody in this place is getting ready for making gardens.

We were all glad to see the substituting face of Chauncey Rowe after his return from the Adirondacks.

Paul Myers of Edenville is grafting a number of young trees for the people in this vicinity.

Ms. William Castor and son
David spent Tuesday with Mrs.
and Mrs. Rowe.

Has been appointed Distributor for

The EARL Motor Car

GIVEN a wide choice of dealers by the notable value and road performance of our 1922 cars, it is a pleasure for Earl Motors, Inc. to make this announcement of local representative and with an established organization and intelligent service at command, Earl owners are assured of every consideration and facility any owner could wish behind the car he buys.

$995, the Earl Touring Car now on exhibition sets a new standard of motor car values. All the latest engineering and style developments have gone into its design. All the savings made possible through cash purchases in low material markets and large-scale production by experienced factory workers have helped to hold down the price and create its unapproachable values.

ease of control, unflinching comfort, flexible power and a broad margin of safety are assured by Earl design and construction. A dynamic long-stroke motor, exclusive new steering gear, rigid 7-inch channel frame, rugged front and rear axles, quiet transmission, 56-inch rear springs, Alenite lubrication and a special Borg & Beck disc clutch are features of the Earl chassis, tested and proved equal to any driving or hill-climbing emergency.

Built in five graceful body types, no other cars of the Earl's size swing so near the road. Low sweeping lines, refinement of detail and complete appointments make each Earl a car of distinction and individuality.

The beauty, comfort and spirited performance of the Earl will convince you that it is the motor car you want to own and drive. Come in, then, and see the car today. Make an appointment for a demonstration. Or, better still, do your own driving.

MRS. ROOSA'S WILL FILED FOR PROBATE

Leaves $1,000 Each To City Hospital, Industrial Home, D. A. R. Chapter, Reformed Dutch Church and Two of Its Missionary Societies—Balance Goes to Husband.

The last will and testament of Mary Stitt Roosa of the City of Kingston has been filed for probate in Surrogate's court, and citations issued returnable May 23. The value of the estate is given as over $5,000 personal and as not exceeding $5,000 real. DeWitt Roosa, the husband, is named as executor and is the petitioner. The terms of the will are as follows:

In the Name of God—Amen.
I, Mary Stitt Roosa of the City of Kingston, County of Ulster and State of New York, do hereby make publish and declare this to be my last will and testament in manner following, that is to say:

First: I give, devise and bequeath to my husband, DeWitt Roosa, all the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, wherever situated for and during his natural life with full power to sell and dispose of the same at such time and in such manner and for such sum or sums as to him in the exercise of his judgment, he may consider it necessary to do for the payment of my said debts, his support and maintenance and for any other purpose or purposes whatsoever, it being my intention and will to give all that I possess to my said husband for his comfort, maintenance and support.

It being my wish that if my said husband survive me, out of the unexpended portion of my estate above devised and bequeathed to him for his comfort, maintenance and support, to give to the following persons, corporations and societies, the following sums respectively:

First: To the minister, elders and deacons of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church in Kingston, N. Y., the sum of one thousand dollars, in trust nevertheless for the uses and purposes following: I direct that the said bequest of one thousand dollars be invested in permanent securities and that the interest and income arising therefrom be perpetually used by the consistory of said church in defraying the ordinary expenses of the church.

Second: To the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America the sum of one thousand dollars.

Third: To the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America the sum of one thousand dollars.

Fourth: To the Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Incorporated, the sum of one thousand dollars; said bequest be invested in permanent securities and that the interest arising therefrom be perpetually used by the trustees of said chapter in defraying the expenses of said Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R.

Fifth: To the Industrial Home of the City of Kingston, N. Y., the sum of one thousand dollars to be added to the endowment of said Industrial Home.

Sixth: To the Kingston City Hospital of Kingston, N. Y., the sum of one thousand dollars to be added to the endowment of said hospital.

Seventh: The balance of my said estate, real, personal and mixed, I devise and bequeath to those to whom my said husband may devise and bequeath the same.

If my said husband and I should die together by a common accident or otherwise, or if I survive him, it is my will, after all my lawful debts and expenses be paid and discharged, that the household furniture and effects which I received from my mother's family, be distributed and divided between my cousins, Laura Earle Schermerhorn and Edith Dorrance Sexton or their heirs (if either of them be dead) as they may select, and then I give, devise and bequeath:

First: To the minister, elders and deacons of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church in Kingston, N. Y., the sum of one thousand dollars, in trust nevertheless for the uses and purposes following: I direct that the said bequest of one thousand dollars be invested in permanent securities, and that the interest and income arising therefrom be perpetually used by the consistory of said church in defraying the ordinary expenses of the church.

Second: To the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Church in America, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Third: To the Board of Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church in America, the sum of one thousand dollars.

Fourth: To the Wiltwyck Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Incorporated, the sum of one thousand dollars; said bequest to be invested in permanent securities and that the interest arising therefrom be perpetually used by the trustees of said chapter in defraying the expenses of said Wiltwyck Chapter, D. A. R.

Fifth: To the Industrial Home of the City of Kingston, the sum of one thousand dollars to be added to the endowment of said Industrial Home.

Sixth: To the Kingston City Hospital of Kingston, N. Y., the sum of one thousand dollars, to be added to the endowment of said hospital.

Seventh: I give and bequeath to Anna Carter Stitt the widow of my deceased brother, George S. Stitt, the sum of three thousand dollars.

Eighth: I give and bequeath to my cousins, Laura Earle Schermerhorn and Edith Dorrance Sexton, the sum of two thousand dollars each.

Ninth: I give and bequeath to my cousin, Belle Staats, the income of three thousand dollars to be paid to her in at least semi-annual installments as long as she lives, and upon her death I direct that the principal from which said income is derived, revert and become a part of the residuary estate.

Tenth: I give, devise and bequeath the remainder of my estate, real and mixed, to my cousins, Laura Earle Schermerhorn and Edith Dorrance Sexton.

JOHN C. OLIVER, FARMER, DEAD

Entire Life Was Spent on Large and Fertile Marletown Property Handled Down for Generations—Had Friends All Over County.

John Crisp Oliver, one of the best known residents of the town of Marletown and for many years widely known throughout Ulster county, died at an early hour this morning at his home in Marletown, aged seventy-seven years.

Mr. Oliver was born in 1846 on the farm where he died and spent his entire life. He never engaged in any other occupation except farming, but his farm was considered one of the most fertile and productive in the county. The property was part of the big farms which had been in the Oliver family for several generations, and which had extended from the Marletown-Hurley town line nearly to Stone Ridge. Much of the land has continued in the possession and occupancy of members of the Oliver family to the present time.

Mr. Oliver was a son of the late Major Cornelius Oliver and Sarah Catherine (Crispell), his wife. His mother being a sister of the late Dr. Peter Crispell and the late Dr. Du Bois Crispell who were among the foremost physicians of their generation in this section of the state. Mr. Oliver never married. He was fond of entertaining friends from Kingston and various sections of Ulster county at his home and his guests included many of the most prominent men of the county.

For many years Mr. Oliver took an active interest in the North Marletown Reformed Church and was a member of the church choir. The church adjoins his farm and although not a member of the church, he contributed liberally to its support. He was quiet and unassuming in his manner and did not seek prominence for himself. He served one term as justice of the peace of his town.

He is survived by one brother, James Oliver, the well known contractor of Yonkers, and two sisters, Anna, widow of the late Hon. Christopher N. DeWitt, and Belle, wife of Minard W. Myer, both of Hurley, and by several nephews and nieces. Two sisters, Mrs. John James Cole and Mrs. William Howard, died some years ago.

The funeral will take place from his late residence on Monday afternoon at two o'clock and interment will be in the family plot in the cemetery of the North Marletown Reformed Church.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

Russell Carson was removed from the West Shore station to the Kingston City Hospital in the ambulance Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Baum, who motored from Yonkers, to spend the Easter holidays at the home of Mrs. Baum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Furmansky of this city, have returned home.

Mrs. Margaret Randolph who has been visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Manhard at 79 Crown Street left this morning for Rahway, N. J., where she will spend a few days with friends before returning to her home in Emporium, Pa.

Miss Caroline Sager soprano soloist at St. James's M. E. Church, who was operated upon for the removal of her tonsils Wednesday at the Kingston City Hospital, is convalescing nicely at her home on East Chester street. Dr. E. D. H. Loughran is the attending physician.

Mary Agnes, the five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Maxwell of No. 482 Washington avenue, underwent an operation for appendicitis at the Benedictine Hospital Thursday afternoon and is doing as well as can be expected. The operation was performed by Drs. William J. and John G. O'Leary.

JAPAN READY TO RATIFY TREATIES

Shantung Agreement First to Get Privy Council's Approval After Long Debate—Yap Next.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Tokio, April 21.—After long debate, the privy council will ratify the Shantung agreement reached at the Washington conference tomorrow. It was authoritatively learned this evening.

This is the first of the Washington treaties and agreements to be taken up for ratification by Japan. The Yap treaty will be the next taken up by the privy council.

According to information secured at the foreign office, all of the Washington treaties will be ratified by the privy council within the next month.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

James W. Scott died at the Kingston City Hospital today. Notice of funeral later.

Julia, daughter of Francesco and Catherine (Crispell), his wife, died early Thursday morning at her home in Glens, aged 87 years. Interment was in the family plot at the Kingston City Cemetery. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. Mary's Cemetery, Barclay Heights, Sagerties.

Mrs. Elizabeth B. Lounsbury, eighty-eight years of age, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charlotte Moray at Coxsackie, Wednesday. She was a direct descendant of John Brown, the Scotch Covenantist martyr, who was shot at Prospect Field, Airmore, 1857. The house where she was born still stands at Coxsackie. She was a relative of Mrs. Lounsbury, formerly of this city.

Ellenville, April 21.—Harry Hundert, proprietor of Hundert's department store, Centre and Market streets, died Tuesday night. Mr. Hundert was affected with tuberculosis and had been failing for some time, but had been confined to his bed only two or three weeks. He was a native of Austria and came to this section about seven years ago, at first living on a farm, but four years ago established the business which he had developed to considerable proportion. He leaves a widow and a son, seven years old. The remains were taken to Brooklyn where funeral services took place Wednesday. He was well liked in business and social circles and his untimely death is much regretted.

The funeral of Ada Caroline Terwilliger, wife of Lee W. Terwilliger, who died Monday, April 17, at her late residence, 230 Grand View avenue, Catskill, was held Thursday morning, at 10 o'clock. Besides her husband she is survived by one sister, Mrs. Edmund Barlow of this city and a brother, Joseph H. Ter Bush of Brooklyn. She was the daughter of the late Henry and Sarah V. Ter Bush of Shokan, N. Y. and was born in Shokan, January 12, 1881 and lived here the greater part of her life. She taught school for a number of years in Ulster county and also took an active interest in the Shokan Reformed Church and the Sunday school. She became the wife of Lee W. Terwilliger of Catskill, September 17, 1914 and then went to New York to live, where she became a member of the Order of Eastern Star and upon her removal became a member of the East Brooklyn Presbyterian Church, The Open Church, Eldrich street and was still a member at her death. On going to Catskill to live she became a member of the Presbyterian Church and was active in all its undertakings until a year ago in September when she became ill. The many floral gifts showed the esteem in which she was held and the great love her many friends had for her. The interment was in the Terwilliger family plot in Wiltwyck Cemetery this city.

MATTERS BEFORE THE SURROGATE

Letters of administration have been granted to Mary E. Hicks, daughter, in the estate of William Hicks, late of the city of Kingston. Value of estate $1,600 real, $200 personal. Frederick Stephan, Jr., is the attorney for the petitioner.

The last will and testament of Mary O. Vanderlyn late of the town of Wawarsing has been admitted to probate. Value of estate is estimated as $5,000 real and estimated $5,000 personal. Roy Teller and Ed. Vanderlyn are named as executors. The Grahamville Cemetery Association, is devised $100; the estate is bequeathed to the husband, son, daughter, grandson and granddaughter. Clarence A. Hoonbeck is the attorney for the petitioners.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York April 21.—The stock market showed a strong tone at the opening today good gains being made in all the leading issues. Mexican Petroleum started 1 1/2 points higher at 122 1/2 and Sinclair Oil showed a gain of 3/4 at 32 1/2. U. S. Steel rose 1/4 to 98 1/2. Gulf States Steel rose 1/4 to 84. Studebaker showed a gain of 1/4 at 121 1/2 and Standard Oil of New Jersey was half higher at 175.

There was irregularity in prices during the forenoon, the list generally holding around the early high levels. Profit-taking sales in some issues caused recession of about 1 point. U. S. Steel advanced 3/4 to 99 1/2, then yielded to 98. National Trust advanced 1/4 to 115. Texas Company rose over 1 point to 44 1/2.

The market was strong in the afternoon, featured by another new high record in Studebaker, that stock touching 123 1/2.

The market closed firm; government bonds unchanged, railway and other bonds steady.

ODDS AND ENDS.

Kingston Lodge, No. 550, B. P. O. E., will hold a smoke, and entertainment at the Elks Club, Tuesday evening, May 2.

The Standard Bearer Society of the Clinton Avenue Church will have a rehearsal at the church tonight at 7:30. Everyone taking part is requested to be there on time.

The "Oysters R in Season" signs, which are very few in this city now, will be crowded out next week by "New Maple Sugar" signs, but the spring cry of "Hudson River Shad" had not been heard so far this year.

The sewing circle of the Lutheran Church of The Redeemer will hold a cake sale in S. J. Messinger's meat market, 428 Broadway, on Saturday afternoon and evening. A splendid variety of plain and fancy home-made cakes at tempting prices will be on sale.

The Matinee Stock Company, at the Orpheum Theatre with next Monday's matinee will introduce a new member to the cast, Leroy H. Bailey. This clever young man has had much experience in some of the most pretentious stock organizations. Tonight "The Millionaire and the Shop Girl" will be the offering, also matinee and night Saturday. For the first half of next week a comedy drama entitled "Love Courtship and Marriage" will be the offering. Today's feature, "Shadow of Conscience," starring Russell Simpson.

Cupid is harsh to some young men—499 in this case. Miss Winifred Davidson, of Malden, Mass., has received 500 proposals of marriage. Cupid's heart warmed up and when Royal Marshall, also of Malden, asked the "eternal question," Miss Davidson said "yes."

Ideal Combination.
Most of the girls think they would rather have good husbands than rich ones, but they can't see why good men shouldn't cultivate the money-making habit.

SCHERMERHORN FOUND GUILTY

The trial of the charge of grand larceny, second degree, brought against Frank Schermernhorn was completed at noon and the question submitted to the jury. Schermernhorn, indicted by the grand jury for larceny, second degree, was charged with taking John F. Herbert's Overland sedan on November 24, 1921, from in front of the Herbert place of business on Thomas street.

Thursday afternoon the case of The People was closed and an adjournment was taken until this morning. When court convened Mr. Cashin announced that there would be no testimony on the part of the defendant and Schermernhorn was not sworn. District Attorney Traver reviewed the case for The People and John Cashin who with Robert Howard appeared for Schermernhorn. The case was sent to the jury at 12 o'clock and an adjournment was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon. At that time the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of grand larceny, second degree and Judge Fowler announced that he would later sentence Schermernhorn, who was paroled in custody of the sheriff.

Court then recessed until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

All jurors not engaged in the Schermernhorn case were excused until Monday when other criminal matters will be taken up.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, April 21.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Reformed Church will hold a parcel post social in the Sunday school room Wednesday evening, April 26.

Every one is kindly asked to donate a parcel for the sale with price plainly marked and all articles will be sold for their real value. Entertainment at 8 o'clock, ice cream and cake on sale.

VETERAN ON LONG TRAMP

Tramps 1,000 Miles to Go Over Old Civil War Battlefield.

C. R. Wintersteen, eighty years of age, Civil war veteran, is resting at the home of his cousin, Mrs. J. A. McKinley, at Crestline, O., after completing a hike of 1,000 miles from Minneapolis, Minn., to Chattanooga, Tenn.

Wintersteen was a member of Company C, 64th Ohio Infantry. He visited Chattanooga in 1913, at the time of the encampment, and always had a desire to return and look over the battlefields on which he fought.

He left on his jaunt in September, he said, and arrived in Chattanooga Oct. 13. He spent sixteen days there, visiting the battlefields and then walked an additional one hundred miles to Atlanta, Ga. He went from Atlanta to Louisville, completing his walk of 1,000 miles.

IMPROVED ROADS

WAR MATERIAL MADE USEFUL

Ingenious and Economical Uses of Surplus Supplies Made in Construction of Highways.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)
Army ambulances have been converted to survey cars for use in road building; water sprinklers changed to machines for spraying whitewash on poles along state highways; bomb-proof shelters now house road-making tools and explosives—such are some of the peacetime conversions of surplus war materials turned over to the states through the Department of Agriculture, by authority of the congress, and now playing a part in extending and perfecting the national highways.
Reports from many states to the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, through which agency the surplus material was distributed, tell of the ingenious and economical uses of these supplies, valued at $30,000,000. Among the chief items thus distributed are nearly 30,000 motor vehicles and nearly 512,000,000 worth of spare parts. In their original form, the motortrucks were generally not suited for road construction purposes on account of the shape and size of their bodies, which were designed especially for army use, but the majority of the trucks have been altered by substituting dump bodies and hoisting devices for the cargo and ammunition bodies with which they are equipped.

Idaho has converted the steel ammunition bodies into bottom-dump bodies; Maine has removed the cargo bodies from the chassis and changed them into dump bodies by pivoting them near the rear end, and adding a hoisting device; Arizona has cut the bottoms of the bodies in half from front to back and then used the sides for a new bottom and the two halves of the bottom for the new sides. Nearly all the states in which there is a snow problem have utilized a portion of their truck allotment to push snow plows in winter, and many have converted the trucks into serviceable sprinklers.

RUSH OF PRELIMINARY WORK

There Will Be No Delay in Highway Construction by Enactment of New Federal Act.

Highway construction will not be delayed by the requirements of the new federal highway act. The federal highway system will consist of roads, not exceeding 7 per cent of the total in any state, designated by the state and approved by the secretary of agriculture. Work is being rushed by all the highway departments on the preparation of maps of the proposed system, but naturally such an important matter will take some little time and consideration. The government authorities will insist that important through routes meet at state lines which will require conferences between authorities of different states.

In order that work will not be delayed pending the approval of each state system the secretary of agriculture has amended the rules and regulations for federal aid to permit the immediate construction of such roads as it may reasonably be anticipated will become part of the system. State highway officials are being advised that the anticipated route of which a road to be built is a part should be as long as practicable, preferably entirely across the state. A map must be submitted showing the route, other possible routes and connecting routes. If this is found satisfactory the project will be approved for immediate construction.

The State of Washington submitted on December 27 the first complete state system, and others are expected in a short time.

WAR ON RUM RUNNERS IMPERILS U. S. AGENTS

Machine Guns Wanted to Stop Whisky Smuggling Along the Coast of Georgia.

Federal prohibition agents in Georgia are waging an unequal war on rum runners operating along the coast, according to a report to Commissioner Haynes from General Agent Overpeck and Federal Prohibition Agent Ellinchum at Savannah.

The report describes the dangers encountered by prohibition agents in combating the rum smugglers, who are declared to be heavily armed and quick to fire.

"It is reported here, through what we consider reliable information," the report says, "that at least once or twice a week boats coming from Miami Island or elsewhere, carrying from 200 to 2,500 cases of liquor, are unloaded on an island in some one of the numerous rivers leading from the Atlantic to toward Savannah. The apprehension of those cargoes of liquor is made extremely difficult from the fact that any one of the many islands may be used as a base from which to unload and distribute the cargoes."

"It is an acknowledged understanding that the crews of these boats will make a stubborn resistance against apprehension. Proof of this was shown in one instance not long ago, when Capt. Charles H. Nesle on board the Champ was shot three times when at the wheel."

"A favorite method of the runners in distributing their liquor direct from the large boats is to unload at the mouth of the harbor, or rivers, to some of the numerous landings and load the liquor on automobiles which carry the goods to their destination in Savannah under cover of night."

"It may be remarked at this time that Savannah is more of a distributing point than a consumer, and by stopping the distribution from there it will have a marked effect upon prohibition at other places."

"Agents' boats, equipped with machine guns or riot guns in the hands of a crew of four or five men, will have the desired effect on the runners. Then, in most cases, the runners will stay outside the harbor or rivers."

DIZZY HEIGHTS HOLD NO TERRORS FOR STEEPJACK

This is Ed Franz, professional steepjack and aerial worker. One of Ed's specialties is decorating the hold faces of skyscrapers with electric signs, and he is here shown doing a little "foot work" to warn up while hanging a sign to the face of the fifteenth floor of the Morrison hotel, Chicago, with the street level temperature at 15 above. Needless to say the temperature is lower to Ed, who is much higher.

CLAIMS VAGRANCY TROPHY

Man at Lynn, Mass., Is Sentenced for Fifth Time.

Arthur P. Wetherbee claims the championship of being the "vag" so far as appearance in the District court in Lynn, Mass., is concerned. Three times during one week he had applied to police headquarters for lodging and then Judge Ralph W. Reeves sentenced him to two months in the house of correction. "It is cold weather and I would like a place to sleep," said Wetherbee. "I have not been able to get any work."

Judge Reeves said: "I do not think that you would work if you had the opportunity. I will give you a chance to work in the house of correction and you may begin today your fifth commitment service as a vagrant."

A POINT OF POLICY.

A patron of this store has said that one of the virtues of shopping here is that the purchaser is not embarrassed or annoyed by attempts on the part of our sales people to sell to anyone that which she really does not want to buy.

We offer suggestions of course. But they are offered in a spirit of helpfulness and of service rather than in the nature of an immediate urge to buy.

The good-will of our customers, with the continued patronage it assures, we consider the most valuable business asset we possess.

It is upon this policy we have established in these parts our business on those lines, and found fairness, good service without misrepresentation is what our customers desire.

It is never trouble to show goods in this store. Our stock is complete and we earnestly solicit your patronage.

Be Sure You Know About Your Battery

No matter what kind of a car you drive or what kind of a battery there is on it you have to keep posted on certain battery facts.

You have to know whether your battery is charged to the proper point—whether it has enough water in it—whether each of the cells works properly.

Our most important job as a Battery Station is to tell you these things. It doesn't make a bit of difference what make your battery is. Here at Battery Headquarters we give every make exactly the same attention.

OLD PARTED TRAIL
AN AID TO BOTANIST

Data on Dangerous Country in South America Found Accurate
in All Details.

A cartographical trail blazed through the Bopl and Beat river country of South America forty-two years ago by Dr. Edwin R. Heath of Kansas City; South American explorer, proved of vital assistance in taking Frederick L. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., widely known botanist, on an exploring trip throughout the same country several months ago, according to a letter Dr. Heath has received from Mr. Hoffman.

The maps and other geographical data on the dangerous country as prepared by Dr. Heath and published in scientific journals a few years ago were so accurate as to excite the admiration of Mr. Hoffman, the latter said. "No geographical matter I had with me served a better purpose, no observations were more accurate, no conclusions more impartial and no visions more prophetic than yours," the botanist wrote. "I followed as nearly as possible your methods, keeping account of my journey from hour to hour, but making the trip down the river (Bopl), while your journey was made in the reverse direction. I found a number of minor omissions, misspellings, etc., but the little map appended to your paper in the Geographic Journal was priceless and literally worn to shreds by the time I reached Riberalt."

The letter mentioned visits to many places Dr. Heath recalled having seen on his trips.

Although eighty-three years old, Dr. Heath retains intense interest in scientific investigation of South America. He is at present consul in the United States for Guatemala, Honduras, Bolivia and Nicaragua.

A fellow in the Royal Geographic society and the recipient of honors from many scientific organizations Dr. Heath is perhaps most proud of the fact that one of the great rivers of South America bears his name. It is a tributary of the Madre de Dios. He discovered the Madre de Dios river on his trip in 1880. The River Heath forms part of the boundary between Bolivia and Peru.

TRAVELS ALONE 1,600 MILES
IN SOUTH AMERICAN WILDS

Dr. Henry H. Rusby, dean of the college of pharmacy at Columbia University, is recuperating at his home in Newark, N. J., after a perilous and grueling trip as any man ever experienced. Last June Doctor Rusby headed the Mulford biological expedition in search of new vegetable growths of possible medicinal value in the wilds of South America.

At Rurrenabaque, Bolivia, he was stricken with neuritis, which crippled his left leg so badly that he could hardly travel along, an infected tooth causing him intense agony at the same time.

And so, alone, he started for Manaus, 1,600 miles away on the Amazon—and Manaus is 1,000 miles from the Atlantic coast mouth of the Amazon.

Incidentally, and lest it be forgotten, Doctor Rusby was the first man ever to carry the American flag across the continent of South America, traveling from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, on muleback, and on rafts, back in 1885.

DOPE TEST FOR OFFICIALS

Governor of Shanai Province Orders
They Be Examined.

In order to suppress the opium evil in the province of Shanai, China, Gov. Yen Hsi-shan has established an opium-smoking examination office in Taiyuan for the examination of all military and civil officials of the province. They must present themselves for a medical examination at least once a week as to whether or not they are using opium or morphine. After four successive examinations, if all is well, the officials will be given by the examining doctors certificates showing that they are not addicts.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

MARY GRAHAM BONNER

DECIDED FATHER TIME.

"A little girl named Janet," said Daddy, "was behind in everything. This was not altogether her fault. She had had a great many interruptions when she had been doing things which she had wanted to finish."

"People had come and had begged her to do this and then to do that. She had told them she was very busy and could not come. Then they had urged her to change her mind."

"She hadn't changed her mind, but still the people who had come to see her and who had urged her to change her mind had taken up a great deal of her time."

"And altogether, she was behind in all the things she wanted to have finished."

"Oh, dear," she sighed, "I would like to make Father Time a prisoner. Yes, I most certainly would like to do that. I would like to make him stay quite still until I had caught up with everything I wanted to have finished and then I would let him go on his way again."

"That night, after Janet had gone to bed, a jolly-faced old man with a long white beard came and stood over the end of her bed."

"Hello, Janet," said the old man.

"Hello," said Janet, very politely.

"May I ask what is your name?"

"Certainly," said the old man.

"And will you tell me?" asked Janet.

"Certainly," said the old man again.

"My name," he continued, "is Father Time."

"Oh, dear," said Janet, "I am so glad to see you for I had something I wanted to ask you."

"Another question?" asked Father Time.

"A request," said Janet. "I want to ask you to do something for me."

"Well," said Father Time, "I will gladly oblige you if I can. But you know, Father Time has certain rules to follow. For example he must go on to the next day even if people complain that Time flies and even though they may wish he wouldn't hurry along so."

"Father Time has wings that you can't see. Yes, Father Time most certainly can fly. But he doesn't fly any faster one day than another."

"Sometimes it seems as though he did. For instance, at a party, it does seem as though Father Time was hurrying faster than on other occasions. But he is really going just the same as usual. He always does the same way. What is your request, Janet?"

"I'd like it so much," said Janet, "if for just a little, little while I could make a prisoner of you."

"What!" exclaimed Father Time. "You'd like to make a prisoner of me?"

"I'd would," Janet admitted.

"I'm sorry," said Father Time, "but that would be quite impossible."

"Oh, dear," said Janet, "I do wish you'd let me catch you and keep you from moving at all—just for a little while. Until I got caught up with all the things I want to do," she begged.

"I'd gladly do as you wished," said Father Time, "if I could, and if it didn't mean that others would be upset. But you see if I allowed you to keep me as a prisoner what would folks do who were planning something for tomorrow?"

"To-morrow wouldn't be coming along if Father Time stayed as today for a longer time than he should."

"It would mix everything up. I'm so sorry you are behind me. I don't like to have creatures behind me. I like to have them keep right up with me."

"Just do your very best to catch up with me. You'll be able to do it. I know you will. I am sorry I can't oblige you, very sorry indeed."

"You see it would really be quite impossible. Begin tomorrow to try your hardest to catch up with me. I won't go any faster than usual, you know, and you'll catch up with me. But Father Time cannot be a prisoner."

"He can never be that!"

"Johnny Learned Something."

"This pie is excellent, Sister Smith," said little Johnny to his mother at the supper table, and after a pause he repeated with unctuous solemnity, "This pie is excellent, Sister Smith."

"Why, Johnny, what trick are you up to now?" asked his mother, surprised.

"No trick at all," said Johnny. "That's what the minister always says, and then you give him another piece."

HE SHOULD HAVE BEEN HOME TWO HOURS AGO—IM SO AFRAID HE'S BEEN IN AN ACCIDENT—HE TOLD HIM TIME AND AGAIN NOT TO DRIVE SO FAST—

"TWELVE O'CLOCK AND NO SIGN OF HIM—THIS SURENESS IS AWFUL—I HOPE HE ISN'T LYING ON SOME ROADSIDE HELPLESS—OH—WHAT SHALL I DO?"

"I'VE CALLED UP EVERY HOSPITAL AND POLICE STATION IN THE CITY AND NO WORD OF HIM—IF HE DOESN'T COME SOON I'LL GO INSANE."

"HE'S THREE HOURS LATE NOW—SOMETHING MUST HAVE HAPPENED OR HE'D PHONE ME—OH DEAR—I FEEL SO HELPLESS—!!—WHAT'S THAT—P-P?"

"WHERE HAVE YOU BEEN—I'M WORRIED SICK ABOUT YOU—DID YOU HAVE AN ACCIDENT—P?"

"AM YOU MAKE ME SICK—YOU'RE ALWAYS WORRIED TO DEATH OVER NOTHING—IF I GOT HURT DON'T YOU WORRY I'VE GOT SENSE ENOUGH TO PHONE YOU—YOU MAKE ME TIED—ETC."

POTATO COOKERY

Potatoes are a common food upon our tables but in the average home are not prepared in enough ways to lend variety to the food.

Potato Soup.—Boil four medium sized potatoes in salted water until soft, then put them through a ricer. Slice one small onion and put it into a quart of milk to scald. Remove the onion and add the milk to the mashed potato. Melt three tablespoons of butter, add two tablespoons of flour, cook for two minutes, add to the milk with salt and pepper to taste, boil up one minute and serve sprinkled with parsley.

Spanish Potatoes.—Cook potatoes in salted water until tender. Into the potato dish, which has been heated hot, place two tablespoons each of butter and finely minced onion, salt and pepper to season, using this proportion for six medium-sized potatoes. Cut with a knife, lifting and turning the potatoes so that all are well covered with the butter and onion. Serve very hot with cold boiled tongue sliced.

Stuffed Potatoes.—Take six medium-sized long potatoes, bake until done. Cut a slice from the side of each, scoop out the potato, season it with cream, salt, butter; beat until well blended, then add the whites of two eggs beaten until stiff. Refill the skins and bake five to ten minutes in a hot oven. The potato may be sprinkled with cheese, paprika, or parsley before serving.

Franconia Potatoes.—Peel potatoes and cut into quarters, parboil ten minutes, drain and place around the roast an hour before serving time. Bake often to give the potatoes a rich brown color.

Plain boiled potatoes if sliced and carefully fried in butter, keeping the slices whole, is a most attractive manner of serving them.

Pokeweed, common in the South and Middle states, may be served cooked in bunches as one does asparagus, or a soup prepared as one cream soup, will make a most dainty dish.

MAN, SMALL MAN!

Feminine Poll Clerk Learns All About Him.

No Longer Can She Be Convinced of the Superiority of the So-Called Stronger Sex.

The amateur poll clerk, who was likewise an ardent feminist, returned to her home on election night tired, but abuzz with excitement as a result of her first attempt at checking prospective voters. As she entered the house the first persons to greet her were her brother and her fiance, both of whom had the obnoxious habit of poking fun at her efforts to uphold the dignity of her sex.

"You will rant to me about the superiority of man, will you?" she demanded militantly, according to the New York Sun. "Well, let me tell you that it takes a day at the polls to prove what's what. Until now I've had to submit to your insults because I had no way to prove my point, but now I know all about you great big splendid men. Don't you ever dare to tell me again that women aren't the equal of men in every way or that you are any more competent to run the country than we are."

As she paused a moment for breath her dual audience seized the opportunity to get a word in edgewise and demanded, as one man, to be told the reason for this unexpected tirade.

"I'll tell you all about it," she replied. "You know that the law, since women have won the vote, has been remodeled so that voters in stating their ages need say nothing more than 'Over thirty.' That, according to you men, is permitted out of deference to a silly old superstition that we women dislike to tell our ages. Ha! ha!"

"One of the first voters today was old Mr. Jones. He's so old he needs a companion to guide him about the street. When I asked him his age he said 'Over thirty,' and he has been that for the last fifty years at least."

"Then, a little later, young Jack Merceureau came in. Every one knows this is only his second vote, yet he had the unprecedented nerve to stand there and tell me he was 'over thirty.' There's your male supremacy. All he wanted was to have me go out and tell the girls he is over thirty. I suppose, so that he can pose as a wise man about town."

"Why, there were just as many men as women who refused to state their true ages. Whatever their reasons might be, I'm sure I could never guess. Now, with women it's different. They must always seem to be young or else they will lose out in the social world and be regarded as old dowagers, to be shunned by all the younger set."

With a total disregard of the masculine grin occasioned by this explanation the amateur poll clerk continued, her ardor unchecked:

"It would be different, of course, if the men had any real reason for wanting to conceal their ages, but under the circumstances it seems to me that such actions betoken an exceedingly low rate of intelligence."

Then, without giving her audience a chance to come to its own support, she ran up the stairs to her room to make a quick change before dinner.

Moliere's Trusted Adviser.
Recent diggings in the social life of France in the Seventeenth century have led to the discovery of some interesting information about Mlle. Honoree de Bel de Bussy, a granddaughter of Adam Blackwood, a lawyer of Poitiers, of Scotch origin, who was Moliere's intimate friend in Paris when he was writing his masterpieces. The literary excavator, M. Emile Maugé, the well-known French critic, and he has found that Moliere's first met Mlle. de Bussy at the house of her uncle in Paris, and that it was the famous Ninon de Lenclos probably who introduced her to him. She became his most valuable and trusted literary adviser. Each play was read to her before it was put on the stage, and her verdict was always accepted as decisive by the author, and invariably endorsed by the great public. This was so even with that daring experiment "L'Avare," for though it was coldly received on its first performance it won a great triumph on its revival a year later.

Saw Vitamins at Play.
Don't be surprised if you hear some one laying claims one of these days to having seen some atoms, or even electrons, says the Columbus Dispatch. We are ready for anything since a prominent Columbus business man has asserted that he saw some vitamins at play the other day. He was eating lunch at a prominent club and during the course of the meal some Camembert cheese was placed before him. Suddenly his attention was captured by movements of some tiny organisms on the cheese.

"Hey, waiter!" he called. "Come here."

"Did you ever see any vitamins?" he asked when the waiter came to his table.

"No, sah, boss; never did," answered the waiter.

"Well, look there," said the man, pointing to the cheese. "Them's them."

China Adopts an Alphabet.
China is making an attempt to substitute a phonetic alphabet for her present one, which comprises more than 40,000 separate symbols. The new alphabet has only 30 distinct characters which represent each verbal sound.

Highest-Priced Tobacco.
The highest-priced tobacco grown in the world is produced in a certain area near the western coast of Cuba which is more than twenty-five miles square. The fine aromatic tobacco grows there can be produced nowhere else.—Brooklyn Eagle.

NACO Will Give You Pride in Your Table Linen

If You Suffer from Constipation Read this Message Immediately!

About 90% of all can be blamed on constipation—one of the greatest enemies of the human body. Pills and cathartics aggravate dangerous conditions in the delicate intestinal tract while affording but temporary relief. The great natural cleanser is Bran—KELLOGG'S BRAN, cooked and krumbled. If you eat Bran regularly it will give relief permanently. Its work is wonderful! Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it is a desirable way of correcting constipation through food. Bran is nature's food—not a "remedy!" Do not think of Kellogg's Bran as you think of pills and cathartics which never can afford permanent relief. Pills and cathartics aggravate already dangerous conditions. Kellogg's Bran sweeps the bowels naturally, cleansing and purifying the intestinal tract without irritation or discomfort. Regular use of Kellogg's Bran will clear up a pimply complexion and it will free the breath from disagreeable stomach odors. At least two tablespoonfuls should be eaten daily, and as much more as needed for relief of chronic cases. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is delicious served as a cereal, or it can be sprinkled over your favorite cereal, its nut-like flavor adding a delightful zest to breakfast. Kellogg's Bran is delicious in raisin bread, muffins, pancakes, gravies, etc. Start the family eating Kellogg's Bran tomorrow morning. Kellogg's Bran will actually build up the hidden into the robust health. Your grocer has it.

Harry Barnhart and Herbert Snyder are enjoying the Easter vacation with friends in the city.

Leroy Vandermark and son of Esopus, was in this place on Tuesday and took dinner with his mother, Mrs. I. Vandermark.

ASHOKAN.

Ashokan, April 20.—Mrs. Lewis Hyatt is spending the week with her mother, Mrs. George Barclay.

Miss Lillian Winchell is spending the week with her cousin, Miss May Bogart.

The Rev. Mr. Williams and wife and daughter, Ruth, have moved into the M. E. parsonage.

Lincoln Smith's grandchildren of Schenectady are spending the week with him.

Mortimer Hyatt of New Jersey was up over the Easter holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Ryder visited his sister in Phoenixia Sunday.

Many old friends of Mrs. Lee Terwilliger of Catskill were sorry to hear of her death. Mrs. Terwilliger who was Miss Ada Ter Bush of West Shokan, taught two years in school here and will be remembered by many.

Word was received this week of the death of Harry Pierce at Seattle, Wash., April 19th. Mr. Pierce was the son of the late Dr. Pierce and Mrs. Emily Pierce of Brooklyn, who have had a summer home in Ashokan for many years. He is survived by his mother and sister, Mrs. Edna Frances of Brooklyn.

MOMBACUS.

Mombacus, April 20.—Mrs. Lena Van Etten, who has been spending the winter in the city, has returned to Rose Cottage again. Her many friends are glad to welcome her back.

Cleaning house and making garden seem the order of the day.

We had the pleasure of listening to a very eloquent sermon Easter Sunday by the Rev. W. W. Church.

BOON TO MANKIND

Science of Canning Food of Immense Practical Value.

Food Discoveries or Inventions, It is Pointed Out, Have Been of Great Benefit to Humanity.

Though less spectacular, the science of canning was a discovery only equalled in importance by such inventions as the telephone, the wireless and the airplane. When we stop to realize that food, shelter and clothing are man's most vital needs, and what a large proportion of our food is preserved for us today in canned form, we better understand the full significance of this important discovery.

Pickling or drying were the only methods of preserving foods that were known up until about a century ago. In 1780 the necessity of war prompted the French government to offer a reward of 12,000 francs for a better method of food preservation. The prize was awarded to Nicholas Appert, and his method stands today as the real basis of our present process of canning—namely, hermetic sealing and sterilization by heat.

This discovery has added immeasurably to the wealth of the world, because it has meant that at times of harvest the surplus crops, which it is impossible to get to market before they spoil, have not had to go to waste, but have been preserved for use at other periods of the year when Nature is producing less and when, but for the science of canning, we would have to subsist on much less attractive fare.

This is conservation in the broadest and most economic sense of the word. But the process of canning not only benefits the world at large; it has very definite advantages for each of us as individuals. For that much-talked-of Mr. Average-Man-in-the-Street and his Housewife-in-the-Kitchen, "canning" eliminates the seasons. In effect, it "makes summer last all the year 'round," and in mid-winter brings us the crops of midsummer.

And canning also eliminates space or sectionalism, for those of us who live in the interior may still enjoy oysters, crabs, lobsters and other sea foods whenever we wish; and those of us who live in the eastern states may nevertheless have access to the delicious fruit crops of California and Hawaii. And so on the world over. The pioneer in Alaska, and miner in the mountains of South America, the explorer in the Antarctic, men and women everywhere on the fringes of civilization, all have at hand—thanks to the can—the same wholesome appetizing foods that are served to the most exacting guest in an exclusive New York hotel.

Because the science of canning has so done away with time and space with respect to food—the can has come to be known as a modern genie of the home. The housewife whose pantry shelves are well stocked with canned foods is able to choose her meal from whatever corner of the world her whim suggests.

Sacrifice Worthy of the Name.

The word "sacrifice" gains new meaning when we think of the story that is told about the three hundred children of an Armenian orphanage.

So small amount of food had reached the American relief workers in charge of the orphanage that they could give almost nothing even to the three hundred. Each child got only a small piece of bread and a few walnuts twice a day. Of course the food did not nearly satisfy their hunger, but it was enough to keep them alive.

When the children learned that there were hundreds more in the nearby villages who could receive nothing at all they voluntarily gave up the walnuts. Before each meal they dropped their nuts into a sack in one corner of the room, and when it was full some one of them would carry it to the frantic crowd in the street. Could there be a more generous sacrifice than that?—Youth's Companion.

Airplanes' Good Record.

Probably the most remarkable thing about civil aviation in the past year has been that not one passenger has been killed, or even seriously injured, in a British airplane throughout 1921. And this, although during the summer, between 400 and 500 people a week were crossing the channel by air and although well over 1,000 a week were being taken up for joy rides in this country. For this we have to thank not only the skill of the pilots and airplane mechanics, but the aeronautical inspection department and the controller of aerodromes and licenses, who have made sure that only first-class men and machines have been allowed to carry passengers.—London Opinion.

Easter Egg of Death.

The city of Paris, a few years before the war, presented the late ear of Russell with an Easter egg containing jewels to the value of $10,000. The same year one of his revolutionary subjects sent him an egg stuffed with dynamite, timed to explode at a certain hour. The weight of the egg aroused suspicion, and a tragedy was averted by the secret police opening the egg and discovering its contents.

Paris Taxes Abolished.

The higher above the pavement Parisians live the higher taxes they pay. In place of the unpopular levy on plots, the sold carpets and elevators of apartment houses will be taxed. The more stair carpet or elevator you use the more you pay.—Scientific American.

A First Mortgage Investment That Should Interest You

The Management of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Company, and later its affiliated companies, has from time to time sold security issues of these companies to customers and residents in the districts served.

All of the issues were oversubscribed because they were good and reliable investments. The customer-owners number several thousand.

The 6% First Mortgage Bonds of the United Hudson Electric Corporation that we are now offering come in convenient denominations of 100, 500 and 1,000 dollars. They may be secured for cash or by a small payment down and the balance over a period of months. The holders of this issue of bonds, if they so desire, may exchange them for Cumulative Preferred Stock of the Company paying 7%.

ORIGIN OF WORDS

Entertainment and Knowledge in the Search.

In the End, It Will Be Found That Explanations Are in the Nature of a Guess.

Most people take their words (and their phrases, too) ready made; that is, they learn a small vocabulary from hearing other people talk, and afterward, finding the same words in books and dictionaries, they are emboldened to use them in their speech and writing. If they ever wonder where these words come from originally it is in a vague, listless way, rather like the way they look upon mysterious astronomy.

If one pins a comparatively small class down to their actual knowledge of the English language one can learn something more definite, but still nebulous. This small educated class really has heard of the Angles and Danes who imposed their language on the Picts and thus started the Anglo-Saxon boom. It will tell you also how Julius Caesar brought his cohorts into Britain and almost succeeded in making it a Latin-speaking island.

Coming down to the year 1066, the same cultivated persons explain by means of the Conquest the large number of French words that have been more or less Anglicized that we use every day. And when we ask why there are so many German words in our tongue it is only necessary to recall the fact of a common Teutonic origin of the sailors and beachcombers who lived either in the fens or along the shores of Europe and England. They spoke what may be called a common language.

After Shakespeare, Milton, Dryden, Ben Jonson, Sam Johnson and other notable writers had introduced more Latin, Italian and French words into the language and invented a few of their own English may be said to have been finished. Really every language, including English, is extraordinarily conservative and resents new words. All the same new words do get into them. These words are sometimes required to describe new things in the arts, sciences, etc.

When Morse invented his code a handy word had to be made and the Morse telegraph and a variety of derivatives. The airplane has given us in turn several new words. Slings give us a novel word now and then.

For instance, the word "boycott" had no trouble at all in finding its way into our tongue and into most European languages. It arose from the treatment of Capt. Boycott of Lough Mask House in the County Mayo in 1880. "Boyott" a new word for a new word came, got into the language earlier. It comes from the siege of our city of Boston in 1775-76 and the moves of the game follow all the strategic moves in this military history.

Pomp meaning a solemn procession, comes from the Latin word pompa, which was in turn derived from the Latin verb pompere, which means to send. Middle, to mix, is a distortion of the word middle, but it has no good place in the language now as its forebear.

Who knows where the word haberdashery comes from? Ask any man who sells neckties, collars and other little things to adorn (perhaps) the person of man and he hasn't the least idea. Look up the word in the standard dictionaries; the search will not be rewarded.

Quite otherwise is the origin of the word humble pie. It comes from the eating by servants long years ago of pie made from the umbles, or entrails, of the deer.

There is considerable entertainment and not a little knowledge to be gained by looking up the origin of words. Why not add it to the list of popular indoor sports?—New York Herald.

Long in Public Life.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon's announced intention to retire from service in Congress at the expiration of his present term, completing forty-six years in the house, has called attention to the length of service of other house members.

Burton of Cleveland and Longworth of Cincinnati are the veterans of the Ohio delegation, each now serving his ninth term. The Cleveland member, however, in addition, has served one term of six years in the senate.

Pease of Yellow Springs, is serving his fifth term; Cooper of Youngstown, and Keams of Bowling Green, their fourth; and Cole of Findlay, Foster of Athens, Moore of Cambridge, Murphy of Steubenville, Stephens, of Cincinnati, and Thompson of Defiance, their second. The others are all first-terms.

Tone Producer for Violin.

It is said that a modern violin, of any ordinary make, can be converted into the equivalent of a Stradivarius, or other violin of Italy's golden days of string-instrument making, by the attachment to it of a newly invented tone producer. The device, according to an illustrated article in the March Popular Mechanics Magazine, is applicable to any kind of string instrument, is made of specially prepared wood, and is so constructed that it conforms to the shape of the instrument to which it is attached.

Edmonton Has a Gusher.

Small Investors Robbed of Savings by Bunco Men.
GENERAL CLEAN-UP PLANNED

Rigid Probe Being Made of Bucket Shop Activities by Federal Authorities—Poor Widows and Orphans Among the Victims of Slick Stock Salesmen—Many Have Lost Every Cent of Life's Savings to Ruthless Money Sharks.

More than $3,000,000 has been swindled from American investors by slick stock salesmen during the last four years, according to officials who are engaged in a nation-wide probe of bucket-shops and fake stock promotions. Most of this money, it was said, was snatched from poor widows and working men, who entrusted their savings of years into the hands of smooth sharpers. With federal agents taking a hand, and full co-operation promised by Attorney General Daugherty, a general clean-up of illegal stock transactions is seen by officials who are pushing prosecutions against the alleged brokers.

While New York city leads in the prosecution of bucket-shop promoters in the present nation-wide clean-up campaign, there are a total of 450 cases in federal courts, according to Attorney General Daugherty, in which 874 persons have been arrested or indicted.

Not Confined to Brokers.

Most of the cases, the attorney general explained, were fake oil stock companies, although the swindling schemes ranged from bucket-shops and mining stocks to patent "elephant-ear" promotions. Rich harvests are reaped by swindlers, he asserted, because people do not take pains to investigate what they put their money into.

The Department of Justice, Mr. Daugherty continued, comes into the prosecution of such cases through violation of the postal laws in the use of the mails to defraud, but he said that in his opinion the gutter was one for state action. A conference of state blue-sky law commissioners, he suggested, should draft a uniform law carrying a uniform punishment for stock swindlers. He said also he believed in more stringent laws by the states and heavier penalties in such cases.

Missouri Led in Victims.

Quoting from his reports, Mr. Daugherty said the Northern district of Missouri led in the amount involved in pending fake stock cases, with a total of $31,792,000. The attorney general estimated that $3,500,000 had been sunk in the Florida Everglades land scheme, in which most of the investors bought water instead of earth for their cash outlays.

More than 100,000 persons have been victimized by bucket-shop operators in New York city alone in the last year, according to an estimate by District Attorney Baughman. The victims range from the poor and uninitiated to the moderately wealthy and well informed, who probably would not have fared as badly as they did had not the stock market been so favorable to operations of the bucket-shops.

Reputable Brokers in Arms.

Officials of the New York Stock exchange and the Consolidated exchange are co-operating in the efforts to "clean up Wall street." Reputable brokers welcomed the inquiry as a means of ridding the financial district of a long-standing evil.

Scores of bucket-shops are under arrest, released on heavy bail, or have left for parts unknown. Many firms, after going through bankruptcy and then opening offices again, are closing up rapidly. Books and documents of many of the bankrupt firms have been seized, showing the fleeing has been widespread.

Many of those who have related their experiences to the district attorney's office are persons of small means who could ill afford to lose their savings. Some of the manipulators, masquerading as bona-fide brokerage houses, used Ponzi methods, according to the investigators.

A favorite scheme, it was said, was to lull the unsuspecting investor into a sense of security by paying him cash dividends for a time. The bucket-shop operator would explain to the investor when he bought bonds that coupons were not issued because this would involve unnecessary bookkeeping. After receiving dividends for a month or two the investor would seek out his "broker," only to learn that he had disappeared, leaving behind some fine office furniture but no forwarding address.

Many Women Fleeced.

Many women are among the victims of smooth stock salesmen and bucket-shop "scams." In the majority of cases, however, the women, while wanting the sharpers prosecuted, do not want to be drawn into the case as witnesses because they do not want their husbands to know that they have been "playing the market."

Many persons who had worked ceaselessly for years at small wages have lost every cent of their life savings to the ruthless money sharks. Families have been left in want and privation. Widows have innocently given their all to the bucket-shops, expecting to reap a cozy income for the remainder of their lives, only to lose their incomes and now stand on the brink of starvation.

A waitress told the district attorney that she drew from the bank her entire life savings, amounting to $1,000, to give to three men who were forming a brokerage concern and who promised to buy her stocks which would pay big dividends. A few days later the firm failed and the woman learned the three men had added her name to the sum they had fleeced elsewhere and then left the country.

A policeman told of losing his $3,000 nestegg, which was invested in stock paying 7 per cent, when he turned it over to a bucket-shop which guaranteed to pay him 12 per cent. One man told the district attorney he dropped $19,000 in eight months in deals which he discovered too late were crooked.

Many investors were placated, according to the investigators, when the bucket-shop operators sent them sales confirmation slips showing that stock actually had been ordered from a reputable concern in the financial district. The swindlers would then sell the stock, pocket the money and disappear from their temporary offices.

Spent Money Lavishly.

Bucket-shop operators spent money lavishly, although in many cases they began business with little or nothing. Sometimes paying the first month's rent from proceeds from the initial "suckers." Sums obtained from others ostensibly for legitimate investments were devoted to the purchase, or rental, of fine office furniture. A "ticker" was installed, the bucket-shops were fitted out with automobiles, and the "firm" was on the high road to financial success—until a wary investor caused the "brokers" to leave for parts unknown.

The stock exchange of Detroit, Mich., has declared war on the bucket-shops. Jacob Nathan, president of the exchange, said that the organization immediately would place investigators in the field to get accurate data on the extent of the operations of bucket-shops there, and that the assistance of the state banking and securities commission had been pledged in the campaign. It is proposed to launch. Prosecutions will be instituted wherever it is possible, Mr. Nathan said.

Other cities are following the example of Detroit and a determined effort is being made from coast to coast to stamp out the bucket-shop evil and to drive from the country, or place behind the bars, the smooth stock salesmen who have defrauded thousands of persons out of their entire savings.

"GARMENTS OF TRUTH"The laughing tale of a boy who let his ninety horse-power imagination run wild in a one-horse town.CATHOLIC CHARITIES

8,000 boys, 175 Scout masters and assistants.2. Organized Mulry Club, bringing into one group all Catholic society workers in New York city and developing a lay organization of over 500 social workers.3. Assisted three Newman Clubs for Catholic students in non-Catholic colleges in New York city, keeping alive in these students Catholic training and Catholic ideals.4. Established Catholic Room
Registry for Catholic Girls at 371
Lexington avenue, New York city.5. Donated $4,690 to assist Catholic Room Registry, a central agency that cares for over 3,000 working girls every day. (This Room Registry finds fitting homes to house Catholic young women who are strangers in town, or have no home of their own).7. Made substantial appropriations to assist and extend residences for young working girls conducted by religious organizations.8. Appropriated $32,599.74, for Catholic Welfare Work in sparsely settled rural districts.9. Organized County Committee and placed county agents in up-state
districts, at White Plains, Yonkers, Kingston, Poughkeepsie, Goshen.
(These county committees have extended Catholic work on education, child-welfare, health, etc., in the rural communities; thousands of cases have been handled by county agents).10. Procured a complete survey of the immigration problem in the port of New York and began a broad systematic work for the protection of Catholic immigrants; prevented elaborate proselytizing scheme of sectarian agencies; as problem of immigration is a national one, procured
the assistance of the Catholic National Welfare Council and the council donated $100,000 to the work.11. Represented Catholic interests on boards of American Society of Immigrants.12. Appropriated $113,331.03, for assistants and extension of Catholic societies devoted to boys' activities.13. Supervised 27 parishes, with membership of over 3,000. These brigades furnish Catholic boys with social and religious training at most critical period of their lives.14. Appropriated $137,250 to assist and extend the work of Catholic societies devoted to Catholic girls.15. Assisted in organizing 131 girl scout troops in 85 parishes, extended girl scout movement to child-caring institutions, developing wholesome spirit of activity and initiative.Organization and achievements of Catholic Charities:1. It furnishes all Catholic activities with a general bureau, a service station, and a clearing house for information concerning the handling of all Catholic charitable problems.2. It gives us this diocesan bureau without destroying the autonomy of local or parish agencies.3. It unites in this one central unit the hitherto disjointed efforts of over 175 Catholic charitable institutions and agencies.4. It has organized 16,000 men and women in the field of charity, united in the Archbishop's committee of the laity.5. It has enrolled a combining members 219,569 Catholics of the Archdiocese of N. Y. and aims to enroll one million.6. It aims not merely to relieve corporate and material destitution, but to furnish the Archbishop with an organized body of laymen to achieve by unified action a living application of the moral and dogmatic teaching of our mighty faith.7. It has elevated the Catholic Church to a higher plane in the eyes of those without the church, demonstrated to them the power, vitality and enormous potential energy of the ancient faith as a living agency for relieving the needs of the poor, the afflicted, the destitute in our day.8. It has challenged the admiration of the State Board of Charities of N. Y., which characterized its inception as "perhaps the most significant and important event of the year in the field of charitable work."9. It has represented Catholic charitable interests at 150 national,
state, and city conferences on charitable and welfare work.10. It has watched all legislation and guarded against anything inimical to Catholic interests, particularly to the welfare of the Catholic poor.11. It has been of incalculable assistance in making certain that Catholic children shall be cared for in Catholic agencies and institutions.12. It has collected since its existence $1,794,237.41, has appropriated to Catholic institutions and agencies $1,246,375.42, it has thus supplemented and augmented funds necessary to sustain Catholic charitable activities of all kinds which require about $4,000,000.00, annually for their support and extension. It must be made clear from thesefigures that the aim of Catholic Charities is not to supplant other Catholic charitable works, but to perfect, organize, and extend such works.13. It aims to keep vital in an age of materialism, the ideal of the supernatural as a practical force working for the alleviation of the ills of mankind.

Other Than Material Things.

Our own experience has taught us
that even in this world of reality
there exists dreams and desires, thoughts and feelings of beauty, of justice, and love, that are of the noblest and loftiest.—Masterlinck.

COMEDY
"MEDIUM SPIRITS"
SERIAL
"MIRACLES
of the
"JUNGLE"In wrappings around forms when mummies were first laid away in ancient Egypt. And in the Nineteenth century B. C. temples on Thebes were decorated with paintings in which varnish had its part. The magnetic quality found in amber was long ago supposed to lend richness of tone to violins which were varnished with a mixture of amber and alcohol. Zanbar gum is the nearest approach to amber in clearness, and often beautiful bugs are found embedded within its clear substance. Such a curious thing as the tail of a chipmunk, with each hair spread as it to the breeze,
has been found embedded in Zan-
bar gum.

Soothing Effect of Garden.

We go out into the garden to rave against the world. Our flowers look at us—some call us. We release one from a blood-weed, to another we give water, we note a few seedlings, we stand in admiration before a plant which has come suddenly into bloom;
and we have forgotten the world and all our troubles.—John Trevena.Blow for the Minister.
In a certain church one of the duties of the old sexton was to pump the organ. The man was deaf and perhaps that account had fallen into the somewhat embarrassing habit of abruptly quitting his task before a hymn was ended. One Sunday a new minister was coming, and since he was young and unmarried, the young lady who played the organ naturally wanted to appear to the best advantage. As soon as the service had begun she wrote a note and, handing it to the sexton, told him to read it at once.
Evidently the old man did not correctly catch his words, for to her horror
she saw him go to the minister right after the first hymn and hand him the note. The minister opened it and read: "Keep blowing steadily away until I tell you to stop."—Youth's Cor-

OUR DAILY PATTERN.
3527
A POPULAR SUIT STYLE FOR THE SMALL BOY.
The blouse suit is the one most universally becoming to the little fellow. This model has a smart inserted pocket and a pleasing collar. The style is good for serge, twill, mixtures, corduroy, khaki, and also for wash materials such as gingham, drill, seersucker, galatea and linen.
The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 3, 4, 5 and 6 years. A 1 year size requires 1 1/2 yards of 27 inch material for the blouse and 1 1/2 yards for the trousers.
A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or 1c and 2c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.
Catalogue Notice.
Send 15c in coin or stamps for our up-to-date fall and winter 1921 catalogue, containing 550 designs of Ladies', Misses' and Children's Patterns, a concise and comprehensive article on dressmaking also some points for the needle (illustrating 30 of the various, simple stitches) all valuable hints to the home dressmaker.
